All,

Representatives from NM Mining and Minerals Division (MMD), USFS and The Espanola Mercantile Company (TEMC) met at the Las Conchas and El Cajete Mine (SA001RE) on May 18, 2021 to discuss several reclamation topics. A summary is provided below. Thanks to everyone for your time and input on the projects.

Las Conchas Reclamation / Close-out

In September 2020, The Espanola Mercantile Company applied to MMD for the release of the financial assurance (FA) for the Las Conchas portion of the El Cajete Mine. Several years prior to the FA release application, MMD communicated to TEMC that an erosional feature centrally located within the Las Conchas Unit would need to be reclaimed prior to FA release approval. In May 2019, TEMC prepared a reclamation plan (attached) for the erosional feature, which was reviewed and approved by both the MMD and the USFS. Reclamation activities were completed in accordance with the approved plan and summarized in a June 2019 report (attached). The reclamation work was approved by MMD and the USFS during a post reclamation inspection. The reclamation work has stabilized the erosional feature has functioned as planned.

After TEMC submitted the FA release application, the USFS requested additional work be completed by TEMC beyond what was previously approved by both MMD and USFS previously in the reclamation plan and in the post reclamation inspection.

- Create 3H:1V slopes along the sides of the lower portion of the gully.
- Add structures at points along the gully where gradient changes occur.
- Apply slash (small wood or wood chips) or reseed with the native species.

During the on-site May 18, 2021 meeting, the requested additional work was reduced to the following:

- Add rip-rap to buttress the furthest down-gradient Zuni bowl.
- Cover the drainage bed with rip-rap for 30-50 feet below furthest down-gradient Zuni bowl to stabilize the channel bottom and promote sedimentation.
- Add slash below the furthest down-gradient Zuni bowl.

It is TEMC's understanding that completion of the work proposed on May 18th would satisfy both the USFS and MMD and allow the FA release process to move forward.

El Cajete

An erosional feature has been identified from run-off from the reclaimed mine surface in the south-central portion of the of permit area. A rip-rapped drainage within the reclaimed area concentrates surface water flows and discharges water off-site through a culvert to an unarmored swale resulting in down-cutting.

- TEMC will develop a mitigation plan for the of the gully and submit the plan for USFS and MMD review.

The erosional features on the reclaimed area resulting from surface water run-on from the logged burn scar to the southwest mine permit area will be mitigated by the USFS.

- The USFS and TEMC will coordinate mitigation activities to maximize the effectiveness of the combined reclamation projects and minimize disturbances.

Best Regards,

Matt Lane
The Espanola Mercantile Company

Thanks for checking in with the group. I still plan to be there. Would it be possible for you to bring the photos of the reclaimed erosional feature that Clint presented during our November 2020 call?

Good morning everyone,

I just confirmed with the Jemez Ranger District there is 6" – 8" on the ground, and the highways are clear. The NWS predicts a 30% chance of less than ½ inch of snow tonight. So if everyone is still available, I say we go for it.

Would an 11 AM meeting time be better due to potentially bad road conditions?
