LEGAL NOTICE

Rio Grande Resources Corporation (RGR) submitted a Standby Status Renewal Application on or before October 12, 2014 as a revision to its existing Mine Permit No. C1002RE, for its Mt. Taylor Mine in accordance with the provisions of the New Mexico Mining Act, sections 60-1 through 69-36.20, NMSA 1978, as amended, and the New Mexico Mining Act Rules (Rules), 19.10.5 and 19.10.7 of the New Mexico Administrative Code (NMAC). The Mt. Taylor Mine is located in Section 24, T13N, R8W, NMPM in Cibola County, near the village of San Mateo. The mine is an existing uranium mining operation using underground mining techniques to extract uranium ore from depths of over 3000 feet below ground surface using room-and-pillar and stope mining methods. There are no milling facilities within the proposed Standby area. Uranium ore was first produced from the Mt. Taylor Mine in 1979 until September 30, 1982 and again from October 1985 until January 1990. The Mine has been inactive since January 1990 until the present. Standby Status is a technical change only and does not indicate a change in the intended mining activity at the mine. Standby Status was originally approved by the Mining and Minerals Division (MMD) of the New Mexico Energy, Minerals & Natural Resources Department (EMNRD) on October 7, 1999 for a 5 year term. Standby Status was renewed on July 5, 2005 for an additional 5 year term and again on January 30, 2012 for a period ending October 12, 2014. The current application is for renewal of Standby Status for an additional 5 year term ending either on October 12, 2019 or when the mine permit is revised to active (operating) status, whichever comes first.

The proposed Standby Status Renewal Application includes the underground Mine Unit and mine surface facilities consisting of the 28-acre Mine Water Treatment Unit, the Services and Support Facilities Unit covering 93 acres, a 6.8 acres Ore Stockpile, an 11.5 acre Waste Pile, two Storm Water Retention Ponds totaling 2.35 acres, and a 4.7 acre Access Road.

The Mine has been inactive since January 1990 until the present Standby Status is a technical change only and does not indicate a change in the intended mining activity at the mine. Standby Status was originally approved by the Mining and Minerals Division(MMD) of the New
