These changes will make our families summer camping trips to the elephant butte unaffordable. We have been buying the annual camping pass for years to take our kids to the elephant butte to have constructive fun. We will not be able to afford to camp there with these price increases. You will loose a lot of customers if you go through with these price increases. Out of all the ways to obtain money can you find another way rather than punishing those who do fun constructive family camping trips. If these changes are implemented my family will be forced to go to a federal state park lake.
