I don't understand why you want to penalize non-residents. During the winter the southern parks depend on these visitors.

A 6 month pass would be better than no annual pass. One for October-March and one for April-September.

Dump station should be included if you are camping at the park.

Who is going to monitor the day use of non-residents?

Residents use all the facilities of the park the same as non-residents, so why shouldn't they pay a fee.

I love NM State Park, they need a lot of work, but you can not expect to make up in a couple years what you have let go for 20.

You already charge to make a reservation and to cancel a reservation and what is happening is that reservations are made and people don't show up because they do not want to pay to cancel. Why doesn't the state take care of their own reservations instead of a Canadian company?
